It never asked for a restart or anything. It just kept going. It just never shut down. I had to force it and finally it shut down. Quite useful by BrainyDucky Does exactly what it says it does, and does it well, for the most part. Have used quite a few Windows "optimization" programs in my time, however, I like to think I am about as smart as the average pro user as I use the best technology available, whether it is software, hardware or OS. Never had a problem with the smart data cleanup or speed up features. I've used the program to address a lot of common issues and it has been very effective. I use my PC for surfing and downloading, so the program works well. The tool is always available, but the ads are completely optional. The program can also be used at intervals to make sure no problems are lingering. The only thing I found that I was unable to use to its full potential was that it can clean and repair the Windows registry. I didn't have the problem described in the ad, so I can't say for sure if this is a meaningful difference or not, but the lack of explanation left me with a lot of questions. 0cc13bf012
